

2010 CoSN CTO Clinic Promotion – Texas

June 23 – 24

Produced by CoSN and the Texas K-12 CTO Council at the Commons Conference Center in Austin, Texas

The Texas K-12 Chief Technology Officers Council is hosting its annual clinic. We invite district level technology decision makers/CTOs, superintendents, associate superintendents, business officers, and others interested in cutting edge technology leadership in K-12 to join us for a high-level, focused day and a half event designed specifically with your needs in mind.

Platinum Sponsors: Caso Document Management, Dell, Lightspeed Tech, Open Text, SchoolDude

Gold Sponsors: Absolute Software, Adobe, Alcatel-Lucent, Atomic Learning, Avaya, Broadleaf Group, Certica, DsC2, EST Group, Gartner, HP, IBM, Lenovo, Okidata, Pearson, Polyvision, SchoolMessenger, Schoolwires, Smart Technologies, vmware, X2Development

CoSN School District Technology Leader/CTO Clinic – What is it?

CoSN School District Technology Leader/CTO Clinics

- Help you stay on top of emerging technology trends
- Provide you with a framework to evaluate the options and make informed decisions
- Offer excellent networking opportunities
- Deliver information and tools on integrating technologies to help you and your team create the best learning environments

Participate in workshops focusing on:

- Cloud Computing and Software as a Service and their adoption in Education
- Project Share and Texas Virtual School Network
- Data Security and Disaster Planning
- Managing Internet bandwidth
- Higher education trends in technology
- Technology Overview and Trends: What will you be asked to try tomorrow?
- Project-based learning and the role of technology
- Public/Private networks and student-owned devices

Hear inspiring keynote speeches on:

- Leadership Starts at the Top, Dr. John Hoyle, Texas A&M University, moderator of a panel of district superintendents
- Education Technology in Texas, Anita Givens, Associate Commissioner of Standards and Programs, Texas Education Agency
- “Starting the Conversation”, an interactive session with CoSN CEO, Keith Krueger about using the 2010 Horizon Report: K-12 Edition

Registration:

Institutional Members, Corporate Members receive ONE free registration - $99 per additional participant from your institution

Non-members - $249

Superintendents’ registration is complementary

How Do I Register? Go to the Events section of the CoSN webpage. <http://www.cosn.org/>